

The Trial of
Griffin vs. the People of Port Burdock

The defendant, Griffin, has been charged with second-degree murder, 10 counts of aggravated battery and assault, 3 counts of trespass, 2 counts of breaking and entering, 4 counts of vandalism, 5 counts of robbery, and 9 counts of public indecency. The defense has submitted a plea of innocence by legal insanity. The prosecution maintains that Griffin has willfully committed all the above charges.

After listening to the testimony, and arguments, I vote that Griffin is:

- Innocent by reason of legal insanity
- Guilty of all charges

The Trial of
Griffin vs. the People of Port Burdock

The defendant, Griffin, has been charged with second-degree murder, 10 counts of aggravated battery and assault, 3 counts of trespass, 2 counts of breaking and entering, 4 counts of vandalism, 5 counts of robbery, and 9 counts of public indecency. The defense has submitted a plea of innocence by legal insanity. The prosecution maintains that Griffin has willfully committed all the above charges.

After listening to the testimony, and arguments, I vote that Griffin is:

- Innocent by reason of legal insanity
- Guilty of all charges

The Trial of
Griffin vs. the People of Port Burdock

The defendant, Griffin, has been charged with second-degree murder, 10 counts of aggravated battery and assault, 3 counts of trespass, 2 counts of breaking and entering, 4 counts of vandalism, 5 counts of robbery, and 9 counts of public indecency. The defense has submitted a plea of innocence by legal insanity. The prosecution maintains that Griffin has willfully committed all the above charges.

After listening to the testimony, and arguments, I vote that Griffin is:

- Innocent by reason of legal insanity
- Guilty of all charges

The Trial of
Griffin vs. the People of Port Burdock

The defendant, Griffin, has been charged with second-degree murder, 10 counts of aggravated battery and assault, 3 counts of trespass, 2 counts of breaking and entering, 4 counts of vandalism, 5 counts of robbery, and 9 counts of public indecency. The defense has submitted a plea of innocence by legal insanity. The prosecution maintains that Griffin has willfully committed all the above charges.

After listening to the testimony, and arguments, I vote that Griffin is:

- Innocent by reason of legal insanity
- Guilty of all charges